Notice-Briefs

The conference of the judges of the Court of Appeal-third Circuit, has voted to begin July 1, 1987, to strictly enforce Uniform Rules-Courts of Appeal 2-12.6, and in particular the last sentence thereof, which provides that “No further briefs may be filed except by leave of court.”

2-12.6 Reply Brief. The appellant may file a reply brief if he has timely filed an original brief but it shall be strictly confined to rebuttal of points urged in the appellee’s brief. No further briefs may be filed except by leave of court. Effective July 1, 1987.

Internal Rule 1: Timely

When the appellant has not filed a timely brief, the appellee is hereby automatically granted an extension of twenty (20) days from the date the appellant files a brief with this court within which to file a timely appellee brief or a supplemental appellee brief.

Amended May 28, 1997, effective June 1, 1997.

Internal Rule 2: Special Summary Docket

- A. A special docket is created for those appeals, which qualify for summary disposition. Uniform Rules, Courts of Appeal, Rule 2-11.3. Summary docket cases are those which involve limited issues, or which are governed by well-established and well-recognized rules of law.
- B. A panel of three judges will be drawn to preside over the special docket each month. This will be in addition to their individual duties and responsibilities under the regular docket of the court. The panel will preside over the special docket for two days during the month, scheduling 12 cases for each of the two-day sittings. Oral argument of not more than 10 minutes per side will be allowed. Each case will be allotted to one judge who will be responsible for reporting the case after argument.

Counsel who have previously requested and been granted permission to orally argue, will be permitted to reaffirm their desire to present oral argument. If oral argument is desired, it must be requested within ten (10) days of the receipt of notice that the case is being placed on the Special Summary Docket. Request for oral argument by one side does not, unlike the rules pertaining to the regular docket, preserve oral argument for the other side. Each side must separately request oral argument.

- C. Counsel are to be notified at least 30 days before the case is scheduled for hearing. They shall be notified that the case will be heard on the special docket. Counsel who have previously requested and been granted permission to argue, shall be permitted to reaffirm their desire to present oral arguments. All counsel may be instructed that if their previously filed brief exceeds ten page in length, they may be instructed to file a memorandum of argument which summarizes their previously filed brief, no less than ten days before the scheduled hearing date.
- D. The ultimate decision as to whether to treat a special docket case summarily, i.e., by per curiam or memorandum opinion disposition, will be made by two of the three judges on the special docket panel. If, after hearing, a special docket case is found to be unsuitable for expedited disposition, it will nevertheless be heard, but as a regularly processed appeal instead of a special docket appeal.
- E. Following each day of argument, the three judge panel will hold a conference on the cases docketed for that day and make a disposition of each case. The form of the opinion by means of which the court’s decision is expressed will be either a memorandum, as described in Uniform Rules, Courts of Appeal, Rule 2-16.1(a)(2) and (b)(2) or per curiam, as described in Rule 2-16.1(a)(3).
- F. The above procedural rules apply to both civil and criminal appeals.

Adopted effective March 1, 1992.

- II. Facsimile or email filing will only be accepted by this court in the case of an emergency writ.
- III. "Emergency writ" is defined as a situation where a trial court sets a return date that would otherwise bar a party from completing a timely filing with this court due to geographic distance from this office, or where the time frame is such that if the party could physically deliver the filing timely, the court would be burdened with undue time restraints in considering the application and rendering an order.
- IV. NO filing will be accepted without prior contact with the clerk's office to advise the nature of the emergency, request authority to proceed with the fax or email filing and notification of the approximate time of transmittal.

It should also identify the documents being transmitted by caption and matter and the number of pages. Any risk associated with the use of facsimile transmissions shall lie with the sender.
- VIII. An email filing shall be accompanied by a cover letter. The cover letter shall be attached separately to the first email transmission and should clearly identify the sender by name, email address, and voice telephone number. A document being emailed shall be in the form of a pdf file and shall not contain more than 50 pages. If the filing contains more than 50 pages, it shall be broken down into separate files each containing 50 pages or less. The cover letter should also identify the documents being emailed by caption, matter, the number of forthcoming documents, and total number of pages. The sender shall assume all risks associated with the use of email transmissions.
- IX. Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, a signature produced by facsimile or email transmission will be treated as an original. A party who files a signed document by fax or email represents that the original physically signed document is in his or her possession or control and can be made available for review as necessary for any subsequent challenge to authenticity.
- X. Payment of filing fees and charges levied by the court for use of facsimile or email filing shall be paid in the manner prescribed by this court.
 - (1) The filing fee, accompanied by a copy of the facsimile or email filing cover sheet shall be deposited in the U.S. mail no later than the day following the transmission.
 - (2) Non-receipt of payments will result in suspension of facsimile or email privileges, the striking of pleadings for which fees were not tendered and any other penalties deemed appropriate within the discretion of the Court.

XI. The following service charge will be assessed over and above the court's standard filing fees for civil and criminal writs for all fax or email filings to cover duplicating, operating and maintenance costs.
